The transformation to sustainable food systems is an urgent task and we don't have a lot of time. The UAE seeks to become a leading exporter of sustainable agriculture solution for hot and arid climates.

Mariam AlMheiri,
UAE Minister for Climate Change and Environment

We need a Blue Revolution in agriculture that focusses on increasing productivity per unit of water. More crop pre drop.

Kofi Annan,
Secretary General of the United Nations,
Report to the Millennium Conference

The UAE aims to achieve zero hunger by ensuring access to safe, nutritious and sufficient food all year around with a focus on resilient agriculture practices.
