“Numerous opportunities abound in the Nigerian oil and gas industry with the PIA as well as current global conversation on energy transition. One of the many expected derivatives of the PIA is the attraction of foreign investment into Nigeria.

Globally the oil-producing countries are currently having conversations about moving away from fossil fuels to an energy mix of low carbon energy sources such as renewables. The shift to gas underscores President Buhari’s seriousness and determination for the development of Nigeria’s vast gas resources not just as a major exporter but as a major gas consuming nation.

The President will continue to strengthen the gas value chain as it is vital in transforming the economy of our great nation. This initiative will create over 2 million jobs per annum, promote skills acquisition, and enhance technology transfer in addition to growing the nation’s gross domestic product.”

H.E. DR. TIMIPRE SYLVA

Honourable Minister of State for Petroleum Resources

Federal Republic of Nigeria

“This is a time to reset our financing strategy to make sure that companies and multilateral institutions speak to each other in a manner that ultimately, we are able to put money where it's needed and also keep some money for renewables.

Today 80% of our people do not have access to cooking gas and 48% don't have access to any electricity. That gap is huge, and you can't fill it with the scale of investment we are doing, it's not practical today. Must we do it? Yes absolutely. Is it today? No. What can we do? We have the resources of today, the gas that is available to us, we can put all our resources together, build up the infrastructure that is necessary. We can stop the low delivery of gas to the domestic market in another 2 years. As we do this, these numbers will decline. In our conversation with our partners, we continue to emphasize that our key role is to make gas available in our country.”

NIGERIAN CONTENT SEMINAR

THE SEVEN MINISTERIAL REGULATIONS UNVEILED

The Nigerian Content Seminar saw over 16 speakers take to the stage to discourse and debate on key challenges and opportunities including regulation, policy, investment and insurance.

From the regulatory side, Simbi Wabote, Executive Secretary, Nigerian Content Development Management Board (NCDMB) unveiled the Seven Ministerial Regulations to drive investment and growth in Nigerian oil and gas sector.

The regulations include, Training in the Nigerian Oil and Gas Industry 2021; Further Growth of Indigenous Capacity 2021; Registration of Oil and Gas Professionals with Nigerian Professional Bodies 2021; Establishment of Operations in Nigeria 2021; Nigerian Oil and Gas Research and Development 2021; and the Nigerian Oil and Gas Industry Enforcement and Compliance 2021.

"The Seven Ministerial Regulations are meant to strengthen the implementation of Nigerian content," Wabote said.

Victor Bandele, Deputy Managing Director, Deep Water District, TotalEnergies EP Nigeria Limited, said the energy sector required the guidance of the government.

According to him, these guidelines are needed for the growth of the sector.

"Government needs to shape how we progress. If we don't get directions from the government, we'll be groping in the dark. The ministerial guidelines are the things that we should keep in mind," he said.

"I am particularly happy to be part of this great and auspicious event that gives us an opportunity to rub minds and exchange ideas as key industry actors and stakeholders on how we can further deepen and achieve greater Nigerian Content level in the oil and gas industry."
